

Investment Management

Sullivan & Cromwell's Investment Management Group works with some of the largest and most sophisticated clients in the investment management industry, including both traditional and alternative asset managers, boards of directors and investors. These clients rely on S&C to provide the highest quality of advice and services on a range of matters—particularly those that are novel or transformational—relating to hedge funds, private equity funds, management companies, registered investment companies, business development companies, family offices and other investment vehicles, products and accounts.

Origins

Sullivan & Cromwell has been one of the leading legal advisors to the investment management industry since the enactment of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Since that time, S&C has represented numerous public and private companies and their advisors on the full range of 1940 Act and Advisers Act issues and has acted as counsel to funds, fund managers, independent directors and fund underwriters for open- and closed-end funds of all types. S&C was counsel to the Investment Company Institute, the association of nearly all U.S. registered investment companies, for nearly 80 years.

The asset management industry has evolved tremendously. Since the mid-1970s, registered fund assets under management have grown from about $50 billion to nearly $20 trillion. AUM in the alternatives space have also grown rapidly, with private equity AUM estimated to have grown from approximately $550 billion in 2000 to over $3.4 trillion in 2018 and hedge fund AUM estimated to have grown from approximately $300 billion to over $3.3 trillion over the same period. S&C remains on the forefront of this growth, working with registered funds and business development companies, hedge fund and private equity managers and other clients on regulatory, transactional, governance, fund-formation, examination, enforcement and other matters.

Areas of Focus

S&C's Investment Management Group has deep experience in:

- Regulatory. S&C advises on the full range of securities, commodities, tax and other legal and regulatory issues facing both traditional and alternative managers and their managed funds and accounts, and routinely interfaces with regulators on these issues. S&C also assists banking organizations with the challenges of sponsorship of hedge funds and private equity funds under the Volcker Rule, as well as with the regulation of derivatives under Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Act. S&C's broader financial services expertise positions it well to advise alternative investment clients on financial regulatory initiatives of all types. S&C also works closely with clients and
