Wendy Goldberg is a member of the Firm's Financial Services Group where she represents domestic and international commercial banks, investment banks and insurance companies. Her practice encompasses advising on regulatory and enforcement issues, capital markets transactions and corporate governance matters. Ms. Goldberg has also handled applications to federal banking agencies for U.S. and non-U.S. banks, and securities offerings involving U.S. and non-U.S. banks.

Ms. Goldberg is also a member of the Firm's Corporate and Finance Group, where she has represented underwriters in securities transactions for several sovereign nations as well as corporate issuers. In addition, she has acted as counsel to both borrowers and lenders in several credit facilities.

Ms. Goldberg co-authored the article "Sizing up New York's proposed financial services department" (SNL Financial, March 31, 2011). The piece discusses legal implications of the proposed consolidation of New York's insurance and banking departments.
